

72nd Annual Employee Benefits Conference Virtual FAQ

Can I watch recordings of the sessions?

All sessions offered as part of this virtual conference are being recorded and will be available for on demand viewing through November 30, 2026* on the agenda page. Processing may take up to 24 hours. Recordings will be posted as soon as they are available.

Please note: Shankar Vedantam's opening keynote session, The Challenge of Change, will only be available for on demand viewing through November 11, 2026.

How do I earn a certificate of attendance?

To earn a Certificate of Attendance, you must watch at least 11 sessions in full by 11:59 p.m. November 30, 2026. Attendance of live webinars and recording views both count toward a certificate.

The International Foundation will pull attendance reports from all Zoom sessions after the on-demand viewing period ends to determine who qualifies for a Certificate of Attendance.

Attendees are strongly encouraged to keep track of the sessions they've attended live and/or viewed on demand. The International Foundation will not be able to provide attendees with a status report during the live conference or the on-demand viewing period.

Can I get copies of session slide decks?

Copies of session slide decks and other session materials can be found on the Agenda page. Links to specific sessions are located under the speakers' names and photos.

Can I earn CEBS compliance credits?

This conference is eligible for self-reported CEBS Compliance credits. A CEBS Compliance certificate will not be provided. Please track your credits and self-report them at www.ifebp.org/myprofile. Visit www.cebs.org/compliance for additional information.

Can I earn Continuing Education credits for my professional license/designation?

Continuing education credit for professional licenses and designations is not available for this virtual conference. We are sorry for the inconvenience.

Can I use an AI notetaking app during sessions?

Persons other than International Foundation staff are prohibited from recording sessions by any means. (video, audio, transcription, etc.) The International Foundation reserves the right to remove any attendees or AI assistants found in violation as well as the right to revoke attendee conference access without a refund.

What are the evaluations used for?

We ask attendees to complete brief evaluations of each session as well as the overall conference. We greatly appreciate your feedback and use it to shape future programs. These brief surveys will display on your screen at the close of live sessions. Session evaluations and the overall conference evaluation can also be found under the evaluations tab.
